

Consider this...

By John Palmer

On June 28, 29, our own Patrick DellaPace will compete in the Western States 100 mile race. Yes. That's right. It is 100 miles!

The race is kind of an ultimate cross country race, where runners follow a course through mountains, deserts, or whatever happens to be there. To help them, they can have pacers—someone else run along side them who is not competing. Patrick's dad Frank will pace him for the final 40 miles of the race. Yes. That's right. Frank will run 40 miles! And that is only a part of the race.

The race can be followed on <http://www.ws100.com/> which is the web site for the race. It begins at 8:00 eastern time on June 28. You can track specific runners, apparently, so it is possible to actually keep up with Patrick's progress during the race.

Brad and I will both be gone to camp this week, along with about 26 of our kids and about 6 other adults. We anticipate having a great week of fun and spiritual growth. Pray for us, also, as we travel today and next Saturday. We will miss you this week!

Remember next Sunday is Missions Sunday. All contributions for the day will go toward our Missions Budget. So far we've become involved in a prison ministry, children's home, Bible camp, local Spanish TV ministry, and FABLE which is a new ministry to Peru. I'm so proud of your sacrificial giving on each 5th Sunday! I'm also happy that we are involved in such a variety of missions. Make plans now for next week!

Today—Leave for camp immediately following early service.

Wednesday—Sheron Seldomridge report on her trip to Honduras after Bible study.

Sunday, June 29—Missions Sunday and Bilingual service. There will also be a fellowship dinner following. Everyone is invited from both services to stay and eat together.

Sunday, June 29—Won by One, an a cappella singing group from Pepperdine University will perform after evening worship. Kristen DellaPace is a member of this group.
